More private philanthropy is key to build India's social sector

12 March 2023 | Consultancy.in | 4 min. read

Private sector philanthropic spending on the social sector in India should be increased to help the country bridge a growing funding gap, according to a new report. Over 90% of affluent donors are reportedly interested in providing more funding for initiatives that prioritise social issues like climate change, gender, equity, diversity, and inclusion.

India has one of the fastest growing economies in the world. With a GDP growth rate of 8.7% in 2022, India's economic growth is expected to remain strong. Yet despite rapid GDP growth, efforts to reach a $5 trillion economy by 2025, and a growing middle class, multi-dimensional inequalities are still a major problem in India.
